

KID ACTRESS

Victoria MILLER

Victoria Miller is an aspiring model and actress from Baltimore, Maryland, with a unique, spunky and outgoing personality. She lives with her triplet siblings, her big brother and her very supportive parents. At a very young age Victoria, began her acting career at local theaters and visiting New York for various auditions.

In 2012, Victoria was blessed to perform alongside her family in a Baltimore Orioles Baseball Commercial. She was also featured in a Carefirst Health Insurance commercial along with an American Girl fashion show.

Victoria especially enjoys learning pointers from her mom, who taught for Barbizon Modeling School and has had experience in the industry.

Whenever Victoria performs, she brings her energy and enthusiasm to the audience. She has landed many main roles in school plays and musicals. She also taken part in training opportunities to build her resume and improve her skills.

She has performed in two acting camps at the prestigious Hippodrome Theater in Baltimore City, and an acting workshops at Betsy Royall Casting in Baltimore.

In addition to modeling and acting, Victoria enjoys Irish dancing (her heritage), lacrosse, soccer and singing, especially musical theatre.

She looks forward to future bookings and opportunities that allow her to continue to pursue her dream!
